Suspects arrested and booked into Coffee County Jail on organized retail theft charges

A multi-state retail theft operation seemingly came to an end last week when local law enforcement agencies apprehended three suspects.

On Wednesday, Dec. 3, at approximately 1:10 p.m., an Alabama State Trooper assigned to the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency's (ALEA) Highway Patrol Division attempted to conduct a traffic stop on a Chevrolet Camaro. According to information released by ALEA, the driver of the Camaro refused to stop and a pursuit ensued. Ultimately, the driver pulled into a parking lot within the 1000 Block of U.S. Highway 231 in Troy, Ala. and attempted to exit the vehicle while the vehicle was still in motion. The driver was immediately apprehended and identified as Jayden Zakhia Orum, age 19, of Montgomery, Ala.

A search of the vehicle revealed stolen merchandise originating from Walmart in Enterprise, Ala.

Timia Lashay McCall, age 24, of Montgomery, and Brooklyn Janae Denson, age 20, of Montgomery, were both passengers in the Camaro.

All three suspects were identified as participants in a multi-state retail theft operation responsible for stealing in excess of $100,000 in merchandise throughout southern Alabama and northern Florida, according to ALEA's press release on the matter.

McCall and Denson were both charged with organized retail theft. Orum was charged with organized retail theft and attempting to elude.

All three suspects were booked into the Coffee County Jail on Wednesday, Dec. 3rd. They were released on bond Friday, Dec. 5th.

ALEA extend thanks to the Troy Police Department, the Pike County Sheriff's Office and the Coffee County Sheriff's Office for their assistance in this case.

Nothing further is available as the investigation remains ongoing.

THE MEMBERS OF ZION CHAPEL BAPTIST CHURCH hosted for the third year a drive-thru Nativity setting in celebration of the Christmas season. Despite outdoor conditions being wet and cold last weekend - Friday, Dec. 5 - Sunday, Dec 7 - over 1,000 onlookers still made their way through the route to experience the scenes created by Zion Chapel Baptist Church for a Journey to the Savor. As one visitor commented on Facebook, photos did not do it justice as it was much more moving to be seen in person. To pull off this drive-thru Nativity each year takes great dedication from the church members, and many who visit it will quickly tell anyone the church members do a fantastic job with the seasonal event. At the conclusion of this year's event, church members Stephanie McIntosh noted that her "heart was full" because she was able to be a part of this special event. Whether serving as a cast member or a behind the scenes worker, she said it everyone to make the drive thru event a success. Zion Chapel Baptist Church is located at 27057 Hwy 87, Elba.

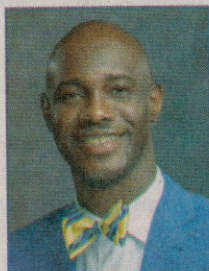

A Message from Elba High principal Jermaine Shakespeare:

As principal of Elba High School, I believe our community deserves honesty, clarity, and hope when it comes to how our students are performing and how we are responding.

This year, our school's state report card improved from a 69 to a 77. That growth matters. It reflects hard work from our teachers, staff, students, and families. At the same time, I want to be clear: we are not satisfied, and we know there is still work to do.

Our most recent ACT and ACAP data show that Math is our most urgent academic need. Many of our students are currently performing below grade level, and that reality requires focused, intentional action from our school. English performance shows encouraging signs of growth, and we are starting to see more students reach college-ready levels in that area.

Reading presents both a challenge and an opportunity. We have students who are doing very well, but we also have a significant number who are still developing essential reading skills. These results do not define our students. They guide the work in front of us.

Starting this spring, we will implement targeted intervention in Math and Reading. These supports will be structured, skill-based, and focused on meeting students exactly where they are. Our goal is to close learning gaps and accelerate progress.

Our teachers are also actively working with an organization called Kids First to strengthen daily classroom instruction. This partnership is helping us improve lesson quality, student engagement, and effective teaching strategies that directly impact student achievement.

I also strongly believe that school climate matters. Students achieve more when they feel safe, supported, and known. We are continuously working to improve relationships, strengthen school culture, and create a learning environment where students can thrive academically and personally.

I am proud of the growth we've made, and I am even more focused on the growth still ahead of us. My commitment — and the commitment of the Elba High School staff — is to continue doing the hard, honest work needed to ensure every student has the opportunity to succeed.

Don't Forget...Elba Christmas Festival and Parade is Saturday

The City of Elba announces the return of its Christmas Festival and the annual Parade on Saturday, Dec. 13.

The celebration begins with fun afternoon activities designed for all ages, around the Coffee County Courthouse in downtown Elba. Attendees can enjoy a variety of entertainment, vendors, Miss Christmas Pageant, Christmas photos, and seasonal treats, creating a perfect atmosphere for making cherished Christmas memories.

The highlight of the evening is the much-anticipated Christmas Parade, which steps-off at 6 p.m.. The parade will feature brilliantly lit floats, local marching bands, community groups, and, of course, a spectacular appearance by Santa Claus, officially ushering him into Elba for the holiday season.

The parade route, which has been shortened for this year's event, is expected to draw spectators from across the Wiregrass to witness the festive display of lights and community spirit. [See Map of New Parade route on Page 2].

Also, during the parade, the Elba Career Academy [ECA] from Elba City Schools will be accepting canned foods for its annual food drive. ECA will have folks walking the parade route accepting the donated food items.

SOUTHERN SPINE & SPORT

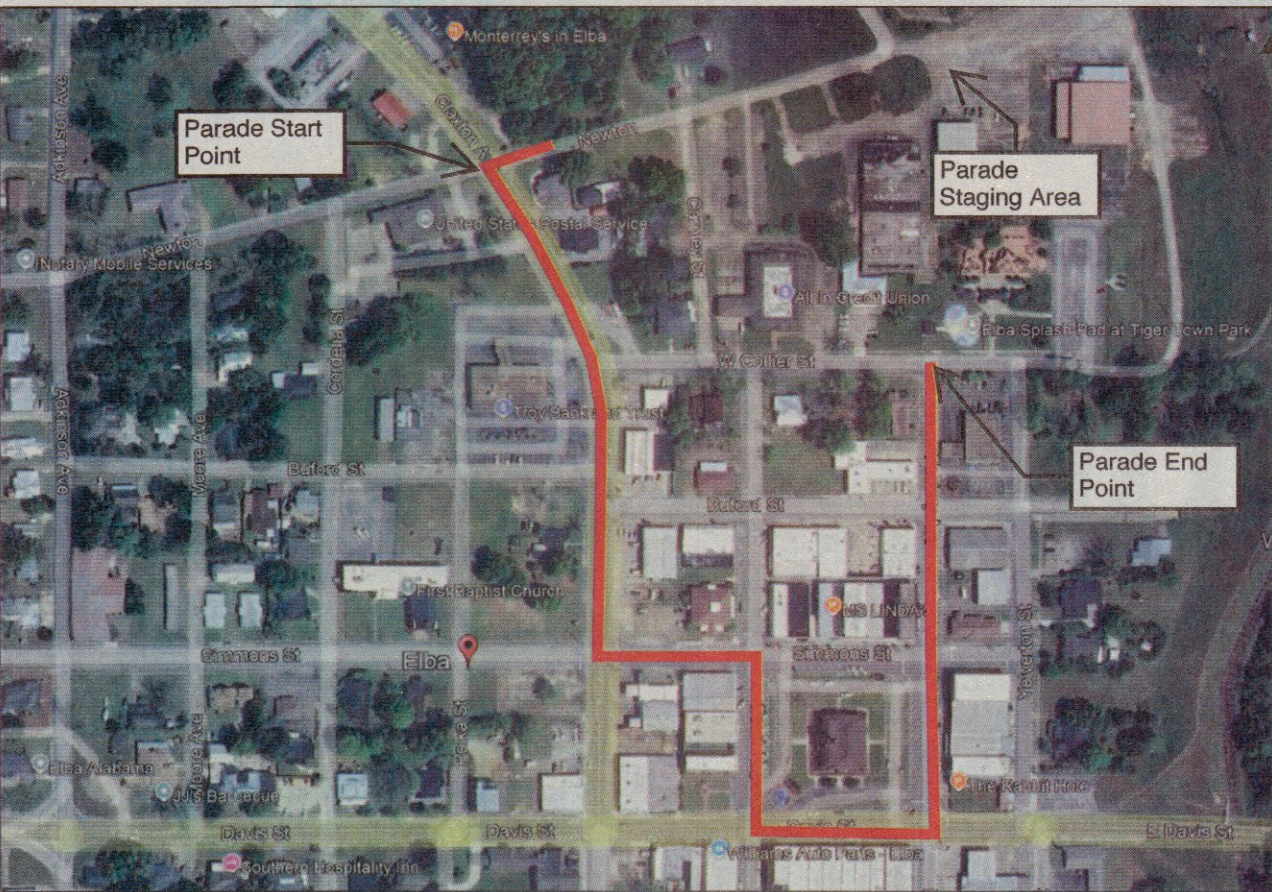

THE ELBA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HOSTED A RIBBON CUTTING ceremony Friday afternoon, Dec. 5, for Southern Spine & Sport, located at 987 Alabama Hwy. 203 [a part of the Shoppes at Taylor Crossing] in Elba. This business also has an office in Enterprise, Ala. Southern Spine & Sport offers a wide range of sports related and back-to-work physical therapy services. Joining the Southern Spine & Sport staff for the ribbon cutting ceremony last Friday afternoon was Elba Mayor Tim Johnson, Elba Chamber director, Sandy Williams and several board members, Elba interim city clerk Sandra Berry, Elba Council member Christy Laramore, Elba and Coffee County queens, and others there to wish the business well in Elba.

NEW BROCKTON POLICE CHIEF DALE GRIMES (right) honored his assistant chief, Officer Terry Williams (left), during the New Brockton Council meeting held Monday, Dec. 1, in New Brockton. Williams is retiring after many years of police service, and Grimes honored him with a retirement plaque in thanks for his years of dedication and service to the Town of New Brockton.

EDITORIAL

Windy Thoughts

with Linda Hodge, Publisher

The folks at Zion Chapel Baptist Church have earned our kudos again this year for their Drive Thru Nativity - Journey to the Savior - event, which was held last weekend. These folks put in a lot of time and effort to deliver a moving experience for those who come to drive through and see the scenes on display. This was the third year for the event, and it never fails to impress. This year, the rainy weather tried to damper the spirits, but failed as it was estimated that well over 1,000 came through over the weekend. Well done!

After many years of hiatus, the Elba Chamber is bringing back a smaller version of the Christmas Festival this year with hopes of it growing into the large event of the past over the next year or so. This year's event is set to begin around 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon and will end with the annual Christmas Parade at 6 p.m. Saturday evening. There will be vendors around the square, pictures by the Christmas tree, a Little Miss Christmas Pageant, entertainment and more. Should be a lot of fun for all. The Christmas Parade does follow a shorter route this year [see photo to the left]. We encourage you to find a spot on the square to watch the parade. The chamber always has a 'grandstand' set up in front of the Elba Theater, and that is a fun place to be for the parade! We hope to see you there.

The City of Elba recently completed its ADA assessment of public buildings and parks. We are glad to see this be done as it is important to make sure the public facilities meet ADA standards and above. The good news was there were no major findings that need addressing, only small things that can be done pretty easily over time. We applaud Elba officials for making this a priority and having a plan in place to get all properties up to ADA standards.

We hope all are taking a little extra time during this season to be sure your homes, vehicles, and other property are locked and secure at all times. While the Christmas season is supposed to be a fun, magical time for families, it seems to also be a time when theft increases. Don't assist those up to no good by leaving your things unlocked. Take an extra second to be sure doors are locked at all times! It may not prevent an incident, if a thief is determined to break in, but it could deter some. If it make one walk away, it was worth that extra second.

Again, we remind our readers that our email address for The Elba Clipper has changed to: elbaclipper1897@gmail.com - this is due to our old email address being cut out by CSpire. Senator Katie Britt and colleagues take action to protect law officers

U.S. Senators Katie Britt (R-Ala.), John Cornyn (R-Texas), and several of their Senate Republican colleagues introduced the Back the Blue Act, which would increase penalties for criminals who target law enforcement officers and provide new tools for officers to protect themselves. "As dangerous, violent threats and rhetoric rise against our courageous law enforcement officers, it is increasingly important that Congress ensures they have the protection and resources they deserve," said Senator Britt. "The Black the Blue Act honors their commitment to protecting our families, communities, and nation, and reaffirms our steadfast support for those who risk their lives every day to keep our nation safe." The Back the Blue Act would strengthen laws to protect police officers, create a specific aggravating factor for federal death penalty prosecutions, and limit federal habeas relief for murders of law enforcement officers. Additionally, it would expand the self-defense and Second Amendment rights for law enforcement officers. "Our law enforcement officers bravely risk their lives daily to protect our communities, and anyone who targets them should be met with the full force of the law, including the death penalty," said Senator Cornyn. "America was built on the principles of law and order, and this legislation sends a clear message that targeted attacks on law enforcement will not be tolerated, dangerous criminals will be held accountable, and our men and women in blue have our full and unwavering support." This legislation is endorsed by the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP), National Association of Police Organizations (NAPO), Federal Law

Cuzin Lou Lou's Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Cuzin Lou Lou and Sister visited the Dolly Parton Stampede last weekend to witness the venue's Christmas show. It was a very good show, but there were some things that Lou Lou and, especially Sister, were not prepared for for the event.

Sister's birthday is this upcoming Saturday, Dec. 13, and the trip to the show was part of her birthday present from Lou Lou...she is nice to Sister at times.

Sister had said for many years that she wanted to see this show, and Lou Lou made it happen this year. She even secured front row seats by the arena.

Lou Lou and Sister arrived at their seats, and after a few seconds, Lou Lou said to Sister, "It stinks in here!"

Sister was making one of her many faces as she agreed the smell was not ideal for enjoying a three-course meal!

Of course, it should be normal for their to be a bit of a smell...after all they were there to see a horse show! But...Lou Lou never imagined the smell to be quite that intense. It was probably heightened by them being so close to the arena.

While it was pretty bad, it wasn't unbearable.

Things turned really funny when the first horses galloped into the area. As they went by Lou Lou and Sister, one left a lasting impression of Sister...well, on her dinner plate at least. The horse kicked up some dirt from the arena floor, and it landed See a demand charge on your bill?

Let's Talk.

That charge represents the time frame (usually 15 minutes) where you used - or "demanded" - the highest amount of energy in a monthly billing cycle. Typically, it's when you use the most appliances at one time. Customers with high demand can expect a greater demand charge - so separate yourself from the crowd and detour your demand by staggering your appliance usage throughout the day.

Senator Britt has long advocated for increasing federal support for our law enforcement officers. The historic passage of her Laken Riley Act included an amendment requiring U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) to detain any illegal alien who assaults a law enforcement officer.

Earlier this year, she also joined Senator Ted Cruz (R-Texas) and several of their colleagues in introducing the CLEAN D.C. Act, which would reverse steps taken by D.C. City Council that threaten officer safety and weaken law enforcement. In light of recent and increasing attacks, she has called for the dangerous targeting of our law enforcement officers to end and for perpetrators to be held accountable to the fullest extent of the law.

How to Plan for Seasonal Grief

If you've ever lost a loved one, you know grief can come in cycles. Certain events - your loved one's birthday; an anniversary; a favorite holiday; a certain time of the year - can be all it takes to unleash a huge wave of grief.

You can't always stop this wave from coming; if you know that certain seasons are hard on you, though, you can prepare yourself to cope.

One suggestion is to lean into your memories; rather than trying to suppress them, actively seek to honor and share them. For example, if your family is having a big holiday gathering, make your deceased loved one's favorite dish for everyone to share, and invite loved ones to voice favorite memories.

Be proactive in taking care of yourself, physically and emotionally. Take some time to get outside and walk each day. Sunlight and fresh air can be good mood boosters. And, be sure to eat and sleep properly.

Express your feelings of intensified grief, even if it's just by writing them down in a journal.

More than anything, avoid isolating yourself. Seek out the close friends and loved ones in whom you can confide. Don't shy away from family gatherings, even if you know they will bring some sadness. Try to stay close to the people you love, and the people you know will support and encourage you.

Finally, consider creating some kind of a memory box or memento with which you can honor your lost loved one - remembering their life and legacy even in a busy time of the year.

Grief can be very cyclical, and some dates on the calendar may fill you with apprehension - but with these steps, you can meet that apprehension head-on.

Wiregrass Cotton Expo offers resources, research, real solutions for growers in Southeast

The 2025 harvest is complete, and farmers are now planning for the next crop year.

With the reality of a difficult economy for cotton farmers, experts with the Alabama Cooperative Extension System are ready to help. They are bringing together resources, research and real solutions at the 2026 Wiregrass Cotton Expo, the largest expo of its kind in a tristate area.

Expo organizer and Henry County Extension Director Jimmy Jones said the event provides expert knowledge free of charge to growers across the Southeast, ranging from Alabama and Mississippi to Georgia, Florida and beyond.

"No matter what state you farm in, when cotton prices are sitting around 60 cents a pound, it's difficult to impossible to pencil in a profit," Jones said. "The one bright light is that it feels like we can only go up from here. The best way to turn things around is through education, and Alabama Extension has a group of professionals that are ready and eager to share their knowledge."

Vendors and Educational Programming

The Wiregrass Cotton Expo will take place Jan. 22 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the National Peanut Festival Fairgrounds in Dothan. Attendees can peruse the latest in cotton farming technology with more than 30 vendors on-site.

Additionally, educational sessions will help farmers learn best practices for making the most out of their cotton acreage in 2026. Keynote speaker Jon Devine, a senior economist with Cotton Incorporated, will discuss the recent farm bill extension, among other topics related to federal policies.

Some of the Alabama Extension staff presenting during the expo include Cotton Specialist Josh Lee, Animal Sciences Specialist Maggie Justice and Forestry and Wildlife Specialist Mark Smith. David Zierden, who serves as Florida's state climatologist out of Florida State University, is also on the agenda.

"To help make cotton turn a profit, it's important to minimize losses, maximize production and find creative uses for byproducts," Jones said. "Our speakers will cover all these topics with discussions on preventing deer and wild-pig damage, using precision agriculture technologies and working with cattle producers to graze cotton stalks or provide cottonseed as feed."

One-on-One Expertise

Jones said another benefit to attending the Wiregrass Cotton Expo will be one-on-one time with Extension experts.

"We're planning for each talk to take around 15 minutes," he said. "That means all our speakers will have plenty of time throughout the event to meet and speak directly with attendees to help them address the issues they're facing on their farms."

Plus, vendors will give away thousands of dollars in door prizes, ranging from feed and seed to coolers and tools.

"Winning a couple bags of cotton seed is certainly a good way to pencil a little black into your cotton ledger for the year," Jones said. "It's always fun to see what our vendors bring as door prizes, and it's even better to see how excited attendees are to walk away with nice, free products."

Everyone is welcome to attend the Wiregrass Cotton Expo. No entry fee is required. For questions about the event, contact Jones at 334-726-1804.

Our youngest grandson Cannon came over for a visit over the weekend and seemed more than just a little impressed with all his Nanny’s Christmas decorations. The trees filled with blinking lights were worth the visit, but he seemed most impressed with a small train set that goes around a mountain and comes back around with whistles sounding. I’ll have to admit his visit even got me in the Christmas spirit.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers and Lady Tigers tipped off their basketball seasons last week and it looks like it could take both teams a while to get into the swing of things on the court. The Tigers lost two games and were never really in either contest as they watched New Brockton bust the clock in the season opener and then failed to score in the first quarter in a loss to Goshen. The Tigers are a little short-handed this season, but have the players to win their share of games and once it is all figured out they should be okay. The Lady Tigers bounced back from a 64-point whipping to New Brockton to defeat Goshen and while they are young and inexperienced, they did play hard in both games and in the win seemed to be settling in on a starting line-up. The Lady Tigers probably won’t be ranked this year after three straight winning seasons, but they are fun to watch and will surprise some folks along the way.

Bounce back from opening loss

Elba Lady Tigers rally past Goshen 40-38

The Elba Lady Tigers opened the basketball season last week with a pair of road games and rebounded from a 64-point loss in their opener to New Brockton to post an exciting two-point win over Goshen to end the week with a 1-1 record.

Following are highlights of both games:

New Brockton 74 Elba 10

The Elba Lady Tigers tipped off their basketball season last Tuesday night at New Brockton and were simply outmanned in a lopsided 74-10 loss to the Lady Gamecocks.

New Brockton combined an aggressive defense with the shooting of Gabby Eubanks and Casey Williams to jump out to a 20-4 first quarter lead, and never slowed down in the second quarter as the Lady Gamecocks carried a 42-8 lead in at intermission. Elba’s struggles continued in the second half as they scored only two points in the final two quarters and at the final horn was on the short end of a 74-10 final score.

Nyasia McCollough scored 6 points to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were Jabria Burks 3 and Javonniece

Williams 1. Casey Williams and Abigail Bustamante both scored 12 points to lead New Brockton, while Ariana Smith added 9 points and Gabby Eubanks scored 8.

Elba 40 Goshen 38

The Elba Lady Tigers rallied from a five-point third quarter deficit to claim an exciting 40-38 win over the Goshen Lady Eagles, Thursday night at Goshen.

Elba rallied from an early 4-0 first quarter deficit to grab a 6-4 advantage with 3:57 left in the quarter behind the scoring of Nyasia McCollough, and when McCollough connected on a free-throw with 45-seconds remaining the Lady Tigers lead was up to 11-8. Goshen took command early in the second quarter and opened up a 16-11 lead, but the Lady Tigers again rallied and pulled ahead 19-18 with 2:11 left in the half on a steal and lay-up by Jabria Burks, only to see the Lady Eagles hit two late three-pointers to carry a 24-19 lead in at intermission.

Goshen remained on top for much of the third quarter and owned a 27-22 advantage midway through the stanza. However, DeeDee Lockett and Jadyn Caldwell sparked yet another Lady Tiger rally, and when Nyasia McCollough nailed a three-pointer with 36-seconds left on the clock Elba was back on top 31-30. Elba owned a 37-34 lead with 3:14 remaining in the fourth quarter after a basket by Javonniece Williams, but Goshen pulled even at 38-38 with less than two minutes left on the clock, and it took a late basket by Elba’s Nyasia McCollough for the Lady Tigers to pull out the wild 40-38 win.

Nyasia McCollough scored 18 points and Jabria Burks added 10 to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Lady Tigers were DeeDee Lockett 8, Jadyn Caldwell 2 and Javonniece Williams 2. Ja’nia Martin scored 15 points and Jude Garcia added 3 to lead Goshen.

by a combined score of 711-67, I guess no one can complain that they deserved the state title.

 If you didn’t know what their uniforms looked like you might not even recognize the team Alabama has put on the field over the last two years under the direction of Coach Kalen DeBoer and his staff. The former Washington coach with the gaudy 123-19 career record that includes a total of 79 wins at Sioux Falls (67) and Fresno State (12), has turned the once powerful Alabama offense into a mediocre Pac 12 unit that in the SEC championship loss to Georgia had negative yards rushing for the only the second time in Bama football history, and has attempted to prove a team doesn’t have to be physical to win. That may be true in the Pac 12, or at Sioux Falls, but in the SEC games are won at the line of scrimmage, and that is obviously the team’s most glaring weakness. Against Georgia, the Tide looked uninspired, and as one statewide sportswriter wrote in his column on Sunday, played with ‘less energy or pride’ than college football fans have ever seen from an Alabama football team. The egg the Tide laid Saturday was also just another case of DeBoer not having his team ready to play, as was the case in the loss this season to Florida State, and last season to Vanderbilt, Oklahoma and Michigan. I’ve give DeBoer a pass on what another sportswriter called a ‘clown suit’ he wore to the pregame show, but still insist he isn’t the right fit for a team like Alabama that plays a tough schedule and whose fans expect it to contend for a national title each and every year. Lane Kiffin made it clear he would have liked to coach in the playoffs. So, can Bama hire him on a week-to-week contract?

 Since I predicted back when Auburn hired Hugh Freeze that he would lead the Tigers to a national championship within three years, I will not make any comments on the future success of new coach Alex Golesh. The new head man in the plains said all the right things last week at his coming out party, and whether he wins or not, he will be well paid for making the move to the SEC. His contract is for $44.25 million for six years, with a starting salary of $6.75 million and an annual raise of $250,00. The contract is also filled with incentive bonuses and includes $1.5 million for a 9-win season, $2 million for a 10-win season, $1 million for an 11-win season and $1 million for a 12-win season. That adds up to an extra $5.5 million if the Tigers post a 12-0 record. Other incentives are $150,000 for making it to the SEC title game, $300,000 for winning the SEC title game, $1 million for a playoff appearance, $250,000 for advancing to the second round of the playoffs, $250,000 for advancing to the third round of the playoffs, $500,000 for advancing to the finals of the playoffs, and $1million for a national championship. If the Tigers finish the season in the ‘Top 25’ he will receive $25,000, with $50,000 for being named the SEC coach of the year and $75,000 for being named the national coach of the year. The contact seems to make it crystal clear that the powers to be at Auburn want to win!

 In closing Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator hit on six of his seven playoff picks last week to complete one of his best seasons ever. Very few sportswriters across the state have the time, or the nerve to predict high school football games, but our own fearless forecaster has been at it for almost fifth years and seems to keep getting better and better. Maybe wisdom does come with age – Nah!

Elba Tigers open season with pair of road losses

The Elba Tigers opened their basketball season last week with a pair of road games and never found its rhythm in either contest as they closed the week with an 0-2 record.

Following are recaps of both games:

New Brockton 101 Elba 47

The Elba Tigers made the short trip over to New Brockton last Tuesday night and limped back home after taking a 101-47 beating at the hands of the high-powered Gamecocks.

Elba trailed only 11-7 midway through the opening stanza behind the play of Laquatos Edwards, but New Brockton’s Cayden Wallace banged home a pair of three-pointers late in the stanza to spark a rally that put the Gamecocks on top 27-8. The county rivals battled on even terms for much of the second quarter as New Brockton carried a 44-20 lead in at intermission, while the Gamecocks began to take command in the third quarter despite Elba’s Jay Wilson and Ky’Avian Stoudemire combining for 11 points, and extended their lead to 68-35. New Brockton, led by the shooting of Anthony Silar, drained seven three-pointers in the final stanza and poured in 31 points in the quarter to run away with the 101-48 win.

Laquatos Edwards scored 15 points and Levi Martin added 12 to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Ky’Avian Stoudemire 9, Jay Wilson 7 and Johnathan Edwards 5. New Brockton, which hit 14 three-pointers in the game, was led by Anthony Silar with 23 points, Khazari Griffin with 15 and Cayden Wallace with 13.

Goshen 38 Elba 27

The Elba Tigers fell behind 10-0 in the first quarter and never recovered in a low-scoring 38-27 loss to the Goshen Eagles, Thursday night at Goshen.

Elba failed to get on the scoreboard in the game’s opening stanza to fall behind 10-0, and while they did score early in the second quarter on a lay-up by Ky’Avian Stoudemire and a basket by Laquatos Edwards to pull within 10-4, Goshen never lost command and opened up a 15-4 lead midway through the quarter. Elba closed to within 15-9 with 3:12 left in the half on two free-throws by Levi Martin, but the Eagles closed the half with an 8-1 run to carry a 23-10 lead in at intermission.

Elba pulled within twelve points at 29-17 with 3:42 left in the third quarter on a basket by Edwards, and got as close as 34-25 with 5:47 remaining in the fourth quarter on a three-point play by Johnathan Edwards, but never really threatened and at the final horn had suffered its second loss of the week, 38-27 to the Eagles.

Laquatos Edwards and Johnathan Edwards scored 9 points, apiece, to lead Elba, while also scoring for the Tigers were Ky’Avian Stoudemire 4, Jay Wilson 3 and Levi Martin 2. Markel Toles scored 19 points and Jumari Flowers added 15 to lead the Eagles.

insult wrapped up in a festive box and adorned with a ribbon is still an insult. When we give gifts, we want to give something that is appreciated. That is all the more true in this season of giving and receiving gifts. Today's gift giving can learn a lot if they examine noteworthy gift givers of history. We can get some tips about giving especially giving to God from them. -- Standard publishing part of the David C. Cook family

What does the Bible say about... Christ as our Savior?

Article written by Douglas Williams

"And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent the Son as Savior of the world" (1 John 4:14).

After the birth of Jesus, an angel told shepherds, "Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which will be to all people. For there is born to you this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord" (Luke 2:10-11).

"And she will bring forth a Son, and you shall call His name Jesus, for He will save His people from their sins" (Matthew 1:21).

"For this man's (David's) seed, according to the promise, God raised for Israel a Savior - Jesus" (Acts 13:23).

"For the husband is head of the wife, as also Christ is head of the church; and He is the Savior of the body" (Ephesians 5:23).

The above verses, along with others, tell us that Jesus came to earth as our Savior. He came to teach us the best way to live and show that He was the Messiah, which means Savior. Then He died that terrible and painful death on the cross, was buried, and on the third day He was raised in victory over death.

He wants to be the Savior of everyone, but we must obey and live for Him (John 3:16). As the Bible teaches, He is the Savior of His spiritual body, which is the church or kingdom that He built. A person is forgiven of their sins and becomes a Christian when they believe in Jesus, repent of sins, confess their faith in Jesus as the Son of God, and are baptized for the remission of sins.

There are many interesting things we can't fully understand and that God has not revealed to us. For example, we do not know what Jesus wrote on the ground, or what Paul's thorn in the flesh was. The secret things belong to God (Deuteronomy 29:29), but God has clearly revealed to us His plan for our salvation that makes it possible to look forward to heaven.

In recent articles, we have written about what the Bible teaches about the end of time. Again, these are things we don't fully know, or have to know, because God will take care of all those things. But we are thankful that Jesus our Savior "has abolished death and brought life and immortality to light through the gospel" (2 Timothy 1:10). For our citizenship is in heaven, from which we also eagerly wait for the Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ" (Philippians 3:20).
